DAPM RV Dental College and Hospital
Department of Oral Medicine and Radiology

Report of CDE program conducted

A CDE program was conducted by The Department of Oral Medicine and Radiology on 28th September 2015. This event was organised as an interactive session with Post-graduates, Under-graduates and the staff of the department.

Prof. Tomohiro Okano, Prof. Emeritus Showa University Tokyo Japan interacted with the students and faculty regarding radiation protection measures.

Venue- Second floor Auditorium, D A P M RV Dental College and Hospital

- ❖ The program started by welcoming the guest speaker Prof. Tomohiro Okano. The event continued with an interactive session and talk by professor Okano about the Radiation Protection measures in maxillofacial radiology. The session was very interactive and highly informative. The students and staff participated equally by asking their queries to the speakers. The session was really helpful and educative.
- ❖ 24 participants attended the program.

Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery
Basic Life Support Workshop

Dr. Kumaraswamy, Head of Department, Department of Emergency Medicine, Fortis hospital Bannerghatta, in association with Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery conducted a Basic Life support CDE in DAPM RV Dental college on 12/12/2018.

His lecture on quick assessment of understanding the scene of trauma, patient safety and personnel safety gave good insights to the dental professionals and taught them how they too could be of help in such situations as first responders. He demonstrated chest compressions on a mannequin and also explained the techniques of doing it correctly with basic airway management. His interactive talk covered all the important checklists one needed to keep in mind to maintain patient safety until the patient could be shifted to a hospital set up where a definitive treatment would be given.

The evening ended on a high note, when the dental professionals were given a chance to practice on the mannequins to understand the site, depth and rate of compressions needed for it to be effective.

COURSE OUTLINE

DEPT OF ORTHO

DIAGNOSIS & TREATMENT PLANNING

- Strategy to correct occlusal canting - The 5 things to look for from a cephalogram without tracing to acquire important clinical information
- Misinterpretations from cephalogram
- Carline Relationship: The "Dogmatic Principal" of orthodontic treatment
- To extract or not to extract, that is the question!
- Treatment strategy for Class II patients
- Treatment strategy for Class III patients, the utilization of Overlay wire
- B point: the first landmark you should read on a cephalogram and why
- Bracket bonding position is key to clinical success; but do you know it varies with different case type?

BIOMECHANICS

- Whether to apply force to main arch wire or directly to tooth and why?
- New roles for mini screws, when to use bone on anchor plates?
- Tseng's bracket design and its convenience
- Wire bending techniques: paradox of preformed arch wire
- When to treat early? Why is retreatment more frequent now days?
- How to close remaining spaces quickly?
- Clinical techniques to close spaces quickly?

CLINICAL CASES DISCUSSION

- Deep Bite: The first hurdle before or during treatment of maxillary anterior labial flaring: very common case type in Taiwan
- How to treat open bite?
- Torque: The second hurdle and its management
- How to determine case difficulty?
- Midline correction
- Why does interproximal spacing occur randomly during treatment?
- How to align high canine quickly?

ADVANCED DISCUSSION

- The joy of creating beauty: How to improve patient's facial profile?
- When to modify bracket?
- Elastic management during finishing
- Early debonding with clear retainer
- J-hook: a powerful tool for success
- Soldering: never underestimate its advantages
- How to bond brackets on lingual/ palatal side?
- Retention strategy: how long does fixed retainer last?
